++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine and warm with sunshine, cloudier and damp overnight.

Today:
Starting fine but chilly, with sunny spells developing widely after localised early fog patches and low cloud retreat to coastal districts. A few showers may develop into the afternoon inland, although it will feel warm here with light winds. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers dying away, replaced by cloudier conditions descending from the north, with some rain in places later. Perhaps becoming drier and colder to end the night in the far north. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Wednesday:
Morning cloud and patchy rain should gradually clear southwards, leaving an increasingly fine but colder day than Tuesday. Sunny spells should eventually develop widely, with light winds expected throughout. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mostly dry with variable cloud cover and light winds throughout. Overnight frost and fog patches are possible, although it will feel warm in sunny spells by day.
